Kaiser Summons Generals-Parliament Won't Vote Army Credit-Chancellor Says Those Who Predict Victory Are Dangerous.

LONDON IS EXPECTING OVERTURES TO END WAR

AMSTERDAM, July 14.—Unconfirmed rumors are current here to-day that Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany has abdicated his crown and that his sixth and youngest son, Joachim of Prussia, has succeeded to the throne.

There has not been any previous intimation that the German Emperor had any idea of quitting the throne and the reports must be taken with all possible reserve.

(The only thing upon which might have been based a belief that Wilhelm intended to abdicate was a report from Berlin that the Kaiser, in summoning Crown Prince Freidrich Withelm to Berlin for the Crown Council, had declared there were affairs to settle that affected his helr as well as himself (Joachim, born in 1890, is the Kaiser's favorite son. He was wounded early in the war on the Russian front and escaped capture in an airplane. He was married in 1918 after the war started to Princess Marle Augusta of Anhalt.

(If the Kalser has abdicated, it is possible he might have selected Joachim as his successor, since he has had frequent clashes with the Crown Prince.)
